(Original post by lifeadd1ct) I realised it wasn't a deliberate mistake but at the end of the question I said that the guy needs to get professional accountants to prepare the cash budget because it's a complex process and if a mistake occurs it can give an incorrect view of the business. Then at the end I spoke to the invigilator and he signed the paper saying that there has been a mistake ...

Looking at past papers can provide a very useful insight into the type of topics and questions you'll have to tackle in a subject. It can also be a useful way of comparing one subject with another, and of looking at the ways in which A-Levels present a different challenge to GCSEs.
